

NOUN Exams Past Questions

Course Code
agr205

Question

The instrument which measures air pressure is called a _____

Answer

pyranometer

Question

The equipment for measuring evaporation are generally called

_____

Answer

evaporimeters

Question

Compared with most other climates, relative humidities are generally high in the _____ and this is the case during the rainy season

Answer

tropics

Question

The photosynthesis rate of most leaves increase with _____ almost linearly over a narrow range

Answer

light intensity

Question

photosynthesis is the process by which plants with the aid of _____ pigment utilise the energy of solar radiation to produce carbon dioxide out of water and carbohydrate

Answer

chlorophyll

Question

The greater the leaf area of the crop and the more actively the crop is growing, the greater the amount of crop water _____

Answer
requirement

Question

In the dry tropics, a lot of water is required for _____

Answer
irrigation

Question

Large scale irrigation involves the construction of huge _____ across rivers so that reservoirs are created to store water

Answer
dams

Question

Irrigation is one of the oldest farm _____ used in supplying additional water in moisture deficient lands for crop production

Answer
techniques

Question

Irrigation can be defined as the application of _____ to soil to provide moisture for crop growth

Answer
water

Try Another Search